"Dig Into Reading Concert with Conductor Jack"

Get ready to rock, bop and zinghop with Nashville's #1 Kids Entertainer - and EMMY Award winning children's songwriter - Conductor Jack. He began his career as a preschool teacher, and co-created "The Zinghoppers Show" - a television program with his wife Kitty that is now airing on over 100 PBS member stations nationwide. Bringing his guitar, ukulele and more - Conductor Jack will sing classic kids songs, original tunes like "In The Garden" and "Dig Into Reading"...all while getting your kids to dance, participate and have fun at the library! Jack encourages audience participation and gets kids dancing, singing along and laughing within the first few notes of the first song! Named "Nashville's Best Kids Entertainer" by the readers of Parent Magazine for the past four years, it's no wonder why superstars like Keith Urban, Nicole Kidman, Brad Paisley, Kimberly Williams-Paisley, members of Kings of Leon and Mike Wolfe (star of the hit TV show "American Pickers") have all brought their children to see Conductor Jack in concert!
